

Dr. Daniel Koch

Managing Director of Covestro (Thailand) Co., Ltd.

Dr. Daniel Koch is Managing Director of Covestro (Thailand) Co., Ltd. He also assumes the responsibility as Site Manager of the Covestro Map Ta Phut Plant.

Born in Duisburg, Germany, on May 3, 1969, Koch studied Chemistry at the University of Duisburg and got his Ph.D in 1998 at the “Max-Planck-Institut für Kohlenforschung at Mülheim an der Ruhr”. He started his career at Bayer in 1999 in Germany, holding various positions in the area of process development and administration. In 2006 he was nominated to lead a pilot plant for Polycarbonate in Antwerpen/Belgium. Following by a period of two years as Plant Manager for a world-scale production plant in Caojing/China, he was appointed in 2010 as Program Director for a major expansion project in Shanghai/China. In 2013 Koch moved back to the headquarter in Leverkusen/Germany where he was appointed to roll out an initiative to improve the global maintenance performance of Covestro.

On November 1, 2015, Koch took over the responsibility as Site Manager of Map Ta Phut Plant in Thailand and additionally was appointed on September 1, 2016 as Managing Director of Covestro (Thailand) Co., Ltd.